

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1886.

The authorities and the public must learn to distinguish the workmen who work and the professional workmen who carry red flags and anarchy. New York Sun.

The Democrats of the Covington District have split over the Circuit Judgeship, and have two nominees in the field. The trouble down there is that the Democratic majority is only about 3,000.

The Democratic convention at Falmouth the other day nominated W. E. Arthur for Circuit Judge, J. W. Menzies for Chancellor and W. C. Cleary for Commonwealth's Attorney. All the nominees hail from Covington. The "bothers" nominated Lucius Desha for Judge.

That courageous and outspoken paper, the Cincinnati Telegram, has tackled the gas monopolists of that place and is going to down them. It is only of late that people have realized what exorbitant rates they have been paying for gas. "Turn about's fair play." The Telegram says such light as is now furnished the people of Cincinnati "must not cost more than 80 cents per 1,000 feet."

JEROME COLE did not adjourn court last week "to go off on an electioneering tour," as charged by two editors of this place. Court adjourned simply because there was no business requiring it to be in session. The attorneys were not ready to try, and a great number of the suits on the docket had been continued till next term. We venture the statement that the two editors "jumped at conclusions" and haven't been in the court house long during the present term to learn what has been done.

In a word, the farmers of Mason County are learning how to farm and learning how to live.—Republican Enterprise.

The above is news of such a gratifying nature that we can't refrain from helping to spread it broadcast to the world. We have been reeling under the impression for many years that the honest yeomanry of Mason knew how to farm and how to live, but we learn now from our neighbor down at the corner that we have been sadly mistaken. But the farmers should take courage and not give up in despair. The "sole owner and editor" of the Enterprise, who, of course, knows all about farming—just how it ought to be done, you know—tells them that they are not only "learning how to farm," but "learning how to live." They will appreciate this information highly, coming from the source it does. What the editor of the Enterprise doesn't know about "farming" and "living" isn't worth knowing. He has been working in a printing office the greater part of his life.

SAYS the Flemingburg-Times Democrat: "The result of the primaries last night and convention Monday in this judicial district is to place the nominations of Judge A. E. Cole and Jas. H. Salve beyond the peradventure of a doubt. The result, so far as Judge Cole is concerned, is quite gratifying to the people of his home county, who feel that he has so conducted himself as to richly deserve a renomination and election at the hands of the party. He carried every county in the district except Lewis, the home of Mr. Halbert, where he made no fight. It was he alone by the overwhelming majority over any man the Republicans may put into the field, though we doubt if he will have any opposition.

The nomination of Mr. Salve will give satisfaction to the people of the district. Personally he is not objectionable to any considerable portion of our people. His personal character is excellent, his habits good, as he will make an honest, painstaking attorney, who will give his best efforts to the discharge of his whole duty. That he will be elected is a foregone conclusion.

"The cargo is full, fresh, and such as has not appeared in any other paper."—Republican Enterprise.

The "sole owner and editor" of the concern down on the corner of Second and Sutton is nothing if not a "blower." Stop him from his childish bragging and "blowing" once and for all. If, by chance, he happens to get some item in his paper that the public hasn't read from one to six days beforehand, he raises a terrible "cackling" about it, and can't refrain from calling the attention of his readers to the "remarkable feat." His childishness in this particular is one of his leading traits, and he never fails to manifest it whenever occasion offers, and, in fact, very often when the opportunity exists only in his mind. The sentence quoted above is a fair sample of his "blowing." He uses it in his article to-day giving alleged railroad news. The "cargo" of news which he says "has not appeared in any other paper" is not new to the people of Mayville and Mason County. They were informed days ago, through the DAILY BULLETIN, as to the calling for; also, as to the legislation referred to, and as to what that legislation provided for. The same is true as to the other items. However, the "editor and sole owner" is known to the citizens of Mayville, and known for just what he is—a "blower" of the genuine stripe, "warranted not to fade or change color."

Notwithstanding the substance of that guarantee was given days ago to our readers, yet in view of the fact that the taxpayers of the county would be called upon eventually to "foot the bill," we needed it well to give them the full details of the matter, and would have published the guarantee last Tuesday. Our reasons for not doing so are here given:

We applied Tuesday morning to one of the leading guarantors for the contract, with a full list of the subscribers, and was refused, with a special request of us not to publish the matter. The reason assigned for this request was that publishing the names of the guarantors would do no good, and, perhaps, might do some harm. The gentleman referred to has treated us fairly, and we make no complaint against him. Another one of the guarantors whom we saw later wanted the whole thing published so that the people could know who the "benefactors of Mayville were," and promised us the copy as soon as the matter was definitely settled with Mr. Huntington. Our readers can draw their own conclusions from the fact that the copy wasn't furnished us. We deem this much due from us in justice to our patrons. All we ask is fair treatment, and when any one goes to discriminating against the DAILY BULLETIN it will be a game at which more than one can play.

Salve for a Broken Heart.

GREENSBURG, Ind., May 8.—Richard M. Farlow has commenced suit against Phoebe Jewett and Orin C. Jewett for $10,000 damages for alienation of affection of plaintiff's wife from him and inducing her to abandon him. It is claimed that she yielded to the seductions of one of the defendants in a feeble and sickly condition and abandoned her husband, taking with her an infant child, and by reason of their intermeddling, the plaintiff claims he has suffered great unrest, mental anguish and sorrow. Mr. Jewett is a wealthy farmer of this county, and the wife of Farlow is the daughter of Jewett's. The case promises to be highly sensational.

Youthful Burglars.

MANCHESTER, O., May 8.—Ephraim Walters, Wm. McKellean, George Lane Easer, James Sneed, and Charles Knowlton, six boys ranging in age from ten to twelve years, entered the house of Mrs. Caroline Sylvester, ransacking the entire building and securing a considerable amount of clothing, books, dishes, &c., after which they began to peddle it from house to house when they were taken by a portion of the goods recovered, but no arrests have yet been made, as Mrs. Sylvester is absent from home.

Serious Quail at Ireton.

IRETON, O., May 8.—Samuel Murphy, proprietor of the local Clark mercantile, and began to abuse him, when Clark struck him on the head with a brick, falling him to the sidewalk. Murphy was conveyed home, when it was found that he was badly hurt. One side of him is paralyzed from the effect of the blow, and he will probably die. Clark was found over to court.

A Bad, Bad Break.

LOUISVILLE, May 8.—A school bill has been passed by the legislature to-day forbidding school taxes. One clause says: "Any widow, spinster, and alien, who is a taxpayer, and has children of a school age, shall be qualified to vote." Spinsters with the first of school age are rare.

Town Treasurer Short.

AKRON, O., May 8.—W. M. Griswold, town treasurer of Cuyahoga Falls, is reported short $1,800 in his accounts. Suspicion has been growing for a year past. He was brought before the town council and, after an examination, removed from office. He has been a resident of that town for many years, acting as agent for the Cleveland, Hudson & Toledo railroad, and has been in the town for twenty-five years. No arrest has been made, and no charge will be brought against him.

Wiped Out by Fire.

MEMPHIS, May 8.—Early this morning a fire destroyed nearly all the business portion of Hennessey. The lost four miles north of here on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. It started in an unoccupied house, and was probably the work of an incendiary. There were thirteen losses by the fire, the total loss being $27,101, with $6,000 insurance. The buildings were all new. Hennessey will rebuild at once.

Earthquake.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here. The stationhouse was perceptibly shaken. Some members of the house which was in session at the time, seemed to think at first there had been an explosion of dynamite.

Foreign.

Greece's reply to the collective note of the powers was not satisfactory, and the ambassadors will depart for Athens to-day. Turkish troops are massing on the frontier, and Greek troops will hasten forward. Gladstone announced in the Commons yesterday that the powers would counsel Greece compliance with their demands. Cholera has got a firm hold at Venice and Vienna. Miss Matthews, daughter of the Mayor, New York, was married in Paris yesterday. It is officially announced that the archbishops of Quebec and Baltimore will be created cardinals.

Sunday School at Aberdeen.

Let merit fall upon whom merit is due. The Baptist Church will be completed to-day, and we must say it is a perfect model of beauty. The young men of our town are long to be remembered by its citizens for the interest manifested in so good a cause. The Union Sunday school will open the doors Sunday evening, May 9th, at 8 o'clock.

STORM AND WATERSPOUT.

Kansas Swept With Hail as Large as Apples.—St. Louis Democrat.

EPONIA, Kan., May 8.—The worst rain and hail storm ever known in this county swept over the country, just west of this city. It struck the border State, the train a Elmville with such force as to break all the glass on the north side, and even the slats of the blinds were broken by the hailstones, which are represented as being as large as apples. At Jacob's Creek, just southwest of this city, a waterspout swept over the place, dragging Mrs. Jacobs and her child. Details of the disaster could not be learned, but no other fatalities are reported.

At Osgo City nearly all the windows in the north side of the houses were broken. This city coped with a very heavy rain and wind storm, but no damage of consequence is recorded.

Cyclone in Illinois.

WOODSTOCK, Ill., May 8.—A small cyclone struck the country between Ringwood and McHenry, in this county. Three men were killed, and several others wounded. The corn crop has gone to the spot, which cannot easily be reached to-night, and until his return further details will not be obtained.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a Tense and Spicy Manner.

A strike is threatened in the Mahoning valley. It would throw 3,000 coal miners out of employment.

Cleveland has five hundred Socialists, but for a meeting of the clan last night proved a failure.

The Liquor League of Indiana met at Indianapolis and effected an organization in opposition to high license.

A second bill to allow savings banks to invest in Cincinnati bonds was defeated in the Massachusetts house.

Justus H. Schwab, the New York Socialist, declares that he disapproves the work of other Socialists.

A thousand striking furniture-makers paraded in Cincinnati. The only flag displayed was that of their country, the stars and stripes.

Mr. A. W. S. Miner, of Athens, O., returning home unexpectedly at night, was insulted for a burglar and fatally shot by a hired boy.

President Cleveland will call a halt on indiscriminate legislation on pension claims by vetoing all bills that do not show a clean title by the records.

The report of the Ohio house of representatives, sent to the U. S. senate, is defective, but it can be made all right by a little proper and prompt action.

The barbers of Cincinnati, bosses and journeymen, propose forming a union, and establishing a system of shorter hours and regular rates of charges and wages.

Warrants for the arrest of the absent Ohio senators will be placed in the hands of the proper officials, with directions to follow the fugitives and bring them in.

Five hundred strikers of the Deering Harvester works, Chicago, returned to work yesterday morning. Three-fourths of the McCormick men reported for duty.

The American Medical association, in convention at St. Louis, elected E. H. Gregory, of St. Louis, president. The association will hold its next convention in Chicago in June, 1887.

The absent Democratic senators from Columbus, O., were entertained by their friends in Covington, Ky. A number of them took a train for Chattanooga and the further south.

Lewis Clark, engaged in scattering Anarchist literature about Loganport, Ill., was waited upon by a committee of citizens and advised to leave town. He left by the first train.

Senator Fair, of Nevada, recommends the purchase of the island of Santa Catalina, in the Pacific ocean, about twenty-five miles southwest of Los Angeles, and colonizing the Apaches on it.

The greenbackers of Iowa have nominated J. O. Smith, of Dallas, secretary of state; F. L. Ellworth, of Mahanah, treasurer; J. V. Myers, of Lynn, auditor; J. W. Brown, of Council Bluffs, attorney.

The railroad freight handlers in Cincinnati went to work yesterday at the compromise wages offered by the managers. It is an important movement toward an adjustment of the labor troubles in Cincinnati.

Twenty-five Cincinnati carriage and wagon manufacturing firms feel that they cannot advance wages, but have concluded to open up shop this morning and give work to all the old men who will accept it on the old basis.

The employees of J. A. Fay & Co., Cincinnati, passed resolutions to the effect that any person carrying the red flag of Socialism or anathematized language out of our country, and also every honest and respectable workman.

Alexander Sullivan, ex-president of the Irish National League of America, says workmen make a mistake in not accepting a reduction of wages and going to work on the demand-hour system. The law of supply and demand would soon regulate their wages.

The Anarchists in New York City numbered about 10,000. They are divided into two contending factions, headed respectively by John Most and Justus Schwab. Recent workmen from upon them and the police close watch on their movements.

The labor situation in Cincinnati presents a much better outlook. There were few additional strikes yesterday. On the other hand a large number of men have returned to work on the old or new basis, and the fears of violent outbreaks are vanishing. But the authorities have taken some precautionary steps to suppress any that might occur. A thousand special policemen have been placed at the command of the mayor. Strong forces of military are in readiness, and within a few days the police force will be increased.

The voting precinct meetings last evening were numerous and well attended. Candidates and earnest in sentiment. Campaigns were enrolled and captains appointed to report to the mayor for assignment to duty.
